- Job Location: Show the exact location of the position within the organization.
- Direct Supervisor: Show the official position title and name of supervisor or manager to whom the jobholder must report.

II. JOB DESCRIPTION:

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS: These are the required job duties of the position that a qualified person must perform. Under the Americans with Disability Act, the duties are performed either with or without a "reasonable accommodation." Without one of the essential functions, the need for the job is changed.

The description of functions performed must be short, clear and correct. It should tell what is done and its purpose or why. It should not tell how it is done. The duties are specific. Do not use unclear, general statements. Do not use additional papers.

Organize and list the job functions in one of the formats selected below. Mark the format selected. The format selected is only for the purpose of organizing the description of the job. It will not determine the job's classification and pay.

- (1) Daily work assignments – proper for job functions that are repetitive and have specific work operations and procedures. List the functions beginning with the first daily work assignment and ending with the last work assignment.
- (2) Percentage of time – proper for jobs that have varied functions and responsibilities. List the functions by percentage of time spent, beginning with the highest percentage. The total % should equal 100%.
- (3) Order of importance – proper for job functions that provide levels of importance. List the functions beginning with the most important function and ending with the least important. All functions are performed, however.

NONESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS: Nonessential functions are tasks that are minor, or not required to the completion of the essential functions. In addition, nonessential functions are those that could be performed by other workers. The phrase, "performs related duties as assigned" is normally listed here.

III. MINIMUM QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS:

These are the minimum requirements needed to qualify for the job. They are necessary for satisfactory performance of the job's essential functions. It is not to show the employee's (jobholder's) qualifications. They are used further in the job analysis necessary for the creation of position classification standards.
