Are we to understand that this information is to be submitted immediately after "Full Scale" trials?	GWA requests that all available data on product usage and dosages be submitted tentatively for concurrence as soon as they become available—for example, daily if possible. This ensures that GWA has an ongoing record of the trial information. However, final data for the bid should be submitted when both GWA and the vendor have mutually agreed that the information represents the vendor's final bid value. This "full scale" trial data, once agreed upon, will be included in the vendor's priced bid. To clarify, this submission does not have to happen immediately after the trial period, but both parties must reach an agreement before the bid closing date. It is also important to note that all trial information shared between GWA, and individual vendors remains confidential, except for what is publicized in the final bid package during the bid opening.
